1. Introduction

This Short Break statement is for families living within the London Borough of Croydon who have a child or young person aged 0 -18 with a disability. It is to inform them of Croydon's Short Breaks offer and how services can be accessed.

Short Breaks are just one of the key services offered to families so parents/carers can have a break from their caring responsibilities whilst children and young people engage in fun and positive activities.

A Short Break provides an opportunity for children and young people with a disability to access mainstream or universal services including after-school clubs, activity groups and day care settings. They may also include specialist sessions for children and young people with more complex needs which can include both day and overnight provision.

Croydon works in partnership with several local providers as well as other voluntary sector organisations and schools to deliver a diverse Short Break offer. We also work closely with the NHS to ensure that children and young people with complex health needs can access local services.

2. What is a Short Break?

Short Breaks are activities for children and young people with a disability. They allow children and young people with disabilities to have an enjoyable break away from their main carer and give their carer a break from their caring responsibilities.

A Short Break provides an opportunity for children and young people with a disability to have enjoyable experiences away from their primary carers. Its purpose is to:

- Allow the child or young person to benefit from different experiences and activities
- Enable parents and carers to have a break from caring responsibilities (have respite from looking after the children).
- Informally educate (or enable) children and young people with special needs and disabilities through their leisure time to develop their own capabilities or enhance their personal and social development and confidence.

A Short Break can take place during the day, evening, weekend or overnight, and can happen in the child's home, carer's home, or in a residential or community setting. Short Breaks can be in both specialist and universal settings. Croydon offers currently including the following:

- Out of school clubs
- Saturday clubs
- Sports activities
- Youth activities (mainstream with support or specialist)
- Holiday clubs
- Specialist provision, including one to one support and overnight stays with a carer or in a residential unit
- Direct payments

3. Who are Short Breaks for?

Short Breaks are available for all Children and young people living in Croydon who:

- Have a Special Educational Need and / or Disability. This may include a physical disability, learning disability or a significant hearing or visual impairment. It includes children with autism or autistic spectrum condition with communication disorder and developmental delay, and children who have challenging behaviour because of their learning disability. It also includes children with complex medical needs, some who may have life limiting conditions.
- Are 0 -18 years old.

4. What are the levels of Short Break support available?

a. Universal Services (Direct access and inclusion)

The London Borough of Croydon is committed to ensuring children and young people with a disability can, where possible, access mainstream, universal provision, preferably within their local area.

Equality and inclusion is promoted where services are designed, equipped and staff trained, to enable children with a disability to enjoy the same activities as their peers. For all Short Breaks within universal provision, parent and carers need to check details with the provider directly.

b. Targeted Short Breaks

For some children and young people with a disability, it is not always appropriate for them to only access universal provision. They may need targeted provision to specifically cater for more complex needs which mean universal provision is difficult to attend. Where a child or a young person's needs, or their family's situation is more complex; Short Break arrangements may need to be designed as an individual package. This will require an assessment by a professional.

Some targeted services are funded by the London Borough of Croydon while others are provided by voluntary groups and charities. To access these activities, we advise parents and carers to contact providers direct for more information. Please note that some services may charge a nominal fee.

c. Specialist Provision

Specialist Short Breaks support children and young people where their disability has a substantial and long-term effect on their ability to carry out day-to-day activities.

To access a Specialist Short Break, the child or young person will require a Child and Family Assessment from the London Borough of Croydon. The Assessment is usually carried out by a Social Worker from the Children with Disabilities Team

Eligibility decisions are based on individual need, including to what extent a child or young person's disability or impairment affects their lives and the lives of those who live with and care for them. However, it is likely that if a child/young person is eligible for Short Break support their disability and/or special educational needs could be described in one or more of the following ways:

- A significant, permanent, and enduring physical disability
- A significant global learning disability
- A severe and enduring communication disorder
- Autism with a significant global development delay and/or challenging behaviour
- A significant sensory impairment

To request a child and family assessment to access specialist Short Breaks parents/carers should contact the Single Point of Contact (SPOC) on 0208 726 6400. This team takes calls from parents, carers and professionals who are requesting support from Children Social Care. They will ask a few questions about the child's needs and family circumstances. They will then direct people to the correct service to meet their needs.

5. Access to Croydon's Short Breaks Offer

6. How are Short Breaks funded?

Families of a child or young person with a disability who have been assessed as eligible for a Short Break may be offered either access to a commissioned service arranged by the London Borough of Croydon or in the case of being eligible for a specialist service may be offered the opportunity to have a Direct Payment. This person can be a friend but must not live in the same house as you.

Once an assessment has been completed and the number of hours of support allocated, an amount is agreed to fund this support. Parents can use direct payments to employ their own personal assistant or directly purchase support.

The options available will be detailed in the child or young person's care plan and will take into consideration the holistic support the child or family receives from other agencies.

As the employer there are several responsibilities in managing the Short Break assistance. The Direct Payments Team will support and advise Direct Payments users with these activities. All services at this level are subject to a regular review and can be provided in addition to directly accessed services.

More information on Direct Payments can be found on the website by following this link <https://www.croydon.gov.uk/education/special-educational-needs/sen-money/direct-payments>

7. How do we ensure Short Breaks are safe?

We take the safety of children and young people with a disability seriously and ensure that any Short Break activity provided undergo the appropriate checks:

- All staff undergo Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) checks and the safer recruitment protocols.
- Feedback is obtained from Short Break providers quarterly to evaluate the Short Breaks from the view of children and young people as well as parents and carers.
- All Short Breaks adhere to London Borough of Croydon's safeguarding procedure.
- Every organisation providing a Short Break also has its own specific safeguarding guidelines which they adhere to.

- All data provided will be treated confidentially in accordance with Croydon's data protection policy and General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR)
- All commissioned providers must evidence robust governance is in place, specifically around health and safety, safeguarding, training records for staff, complaints procedure and inspection reports.

8. Disability Register and Access Card

The council has a statutory responsibility to maintain a register of children and young people with disabilities who live in the Borough. The register is used to provide support to children and young people with a disability and their carers. It also helps us manage our resources and target services where it is needed most. It is the personal choice of parents and carers to include their children in the register, and although we encourage everyone applicable to join the register, it is not compulsory.

Visit <http://www.accesscard.org.uk/> to see all the organisations which offer benefits to Access Card holders.

This card is widely accepted as proof of a person with disabilities needs and provides access to concessions such as free companion passes and tickets. The card has symbols which confirm a person's needs, to inform providers quickly and discreetly about the support that may be required.
